Anne Frank : Diary of Anne Frank in Dari Persian or Farsi (Persian Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Diary of Anne Frank in Dari Persian or Farsi (Persian Edition):

The Diary of Anne Frank is one of the most famous books ever written. It is consistently ranked among the top ten books in the 20th Century. It has been published in more than 60 languages. Time magazine named Anne Frank as one of The Most Important People of the Century. As soon as the book was first published in 1947, it was challenged by Holocaust Deniers. After Otto Frank died in 1980, the original diary was subjected to a forensic document analysis by the Netherlands Institute for War Documentation. This examination proved that the paper, the ink, the glue, the historical record of the events described in the diary, the known handwriting of Anne Frank from before the war and photographs of Anne Frank from before the war were all consistent and thus the diary was authentic.

About the Author Anne Frank was born on 12 June 1929. Her diary starts on 14 June 1942, just after her 13th birthday. It ends on 17 April 1944. She died in a concentration camp in March 1945, just before she would have turned 16 and only two weeks before she would have been liberated by British troops. During World War II, Holland was occupied by Nazi Germany. Jews were rounded up and sent to concentration camps. Few survived. When Anne Frank's sister received an order to report to the railroad station for deportation, the family went into hiding. They hid in the sealed-off upper rooms of the annex of her father's office building in Amsterdam. The sealed-off upper-rooms contained a hidden door which the Franks would hide in during the times when Nazi soldiers were investigating the buildings for harbored Jews. Food was brought to them by trusted employees of Otto Frank's company, which continued to operate during and even after the war. They remained hidden for two years and one month, until their betrayal in August 1944, which resulted in their deportation to Nazi concentration camps. Only Anne's father, Otto Frank, survived the war.
