From UBC Press : Gandharan Buddhism: Archaeology, Art, and Texts (Asian Religions and Society) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Gandharan Buddhism: Archaeology, Art, and Texts (Asian Religions and Society):

Integrating archaeology, art history, numismatics, epigraphy, and textual sources, this is the first book to adopt a truly interdisciplinary approach to the study of Gandharan Buddhism. Contributions articulate the nature of Gandharan Buddhism, its practices and relationship with other regions, and the significance of the relic tradition. Pia Brancaccio is professor of art history at Temple University. Kurt Behrendt is professor of art history at the College of New Jersey.
