William M. Kelso : Jamestown Rediscovery: Search for the 1607 James Fort before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Jamestown Rediscovery: Search for the 1607 James Fort:

A set of six volumes, telling the story of the attempt to uncover the first Jamestown fortification. As William M. Kelso records, by the fall of 1996, over 150,000 artefacts had been found, all of a military nature and old enough to be from the relevant period.

About the Author William M. Kelso is Director of Archaeology for the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities Jamestown Rediscovery Team, which includes Beverly Straube, Elliott Jordan, Eric Deetz, Jamie May, Michael Lavin, Catherine Correll-Walls, and Seth Mallios.
