Miguel Bandeira Jernimo : The 'Civilising Mission' of Portuguese Colonialism, 1870-1930 (Cambridge Imperial and Post-Colonial Studies Series) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The 'Civilising Mission' of Portuguese Colonialism, 1870-1930 (Cambridge Imperial and Post-Colonial Studies Series):

This book provides an historical, critical analysis of the doctrine of 'civilising mission' in Portuguese colonialism in the crucial period from 1870 to 1930. Exploring international contexts and transnational connections, this 'civilising mission' is analysed and assessed by examining the employment and distribution of African manpower.

Miguel Bandeira Jernimos sophisticated and detailed study of the Portuguese civilising mission in Africa is an especially welcome contribution to the field. This is a significant new addition to the literature on Portuguese Africa and it will be especially welcomed not only by Africanists but also labor historians as well as those focused on New Imperialism. (Timothy Coates, American Historical, Vol. 121 (4), October, 2016) About the Author Miguel Bandeira Jernimo is Researcher at the Institute of Social Sciences, University of Lisbon, Portugal.
